

Floor van der Does is a PhD student at the Psychiatry department of the Leiden University Medical Center, supervised by prof. Eric Vermetten, prof. Nic van der Wee, and dr. Erik Giltay. Her research is focused on the dynamic interplay between symptoms of psychopathology, with a main focus on symptoms of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder in Japan Ground Self Defense Force personnel deployed to the 2011 Great East Japan Earthquake. From July through September 2023, she was a visiting fellow in the research group of prof. Masanori Nagamine at the Behavioral Sciences department of the National Defense Medical College in Tokorozawa, Japan.